Advertising in Guidebook

■ Capable of publicizing your products to all the visitors.

A product guidebook is distributed to all the visitors to the International Technical Exhibition on Image Technology and Equipment and Visual Media Expo.

Describing more than 700 products, the guidebook is available for a long time as a special issue after the closure of the exhibition as well as while it is being held.

Your product can be widely publicized by advertising in this guidebook.

Advertisements in Venue Map and Seminar Brochure

■ Capable of effectively guiding the visitors to your booth.

A venue map and a seminar schedule brochure are distributed at the entrance of the exhibition.

Advertising in the venue map enhances the visibility of your booth and draws more visitors to your booth. (Limited to 4 companies)

<Bonus for advertising in the venue map>

- Your company name is printed larger.

Colorful characters also help catch the attention of more visitors.

<Bonus for advertising in the seminar brochure>

- This advertisement is supposed to be placed by a company lecturing at the seminar. Your seminar title and company name are printed larger.

Colorful characters also help catch the attention of more visitors.

Digital Signage Advertisement

■ Capable of sending your message to all the visitors

Projecting a corporate advertisement on a huge screen, digital signage advertisement is an optimum advertising medium for corporate branding.

The huge screen is installed at a spot easily visible to the visitors.
Only one company is advertised in each screen, responding to animation.

* Incorporate the voice in the animation as needed.

<Showing method>

Showing each screen (advertisement) at intervals of 10 seconds, up to 20 screens are repeatedly shown as one set. * Up to 126 sets are shown a day.

<Screen installation site>

The huge screen is installed at a spot easily visible to the visitors in the exhibition hall.

Tie-up Advertisements in Nov. and Dec. Issues of Technical Information Magazine “OplusE”

■ Placing an advertorial in the technical information magazine “OplusE” as the special topic of the exhibition.

Since its first issue in 1979, OplusE, the technical information magazine published by Advanced Communication Media, has been highly evaluated in the optical electronics and image engineering fields. It allows you to publicize your product directly to the academic and corporate engineers and researchers. This time, the magazine features the “notable products of the International Technical Exhibition on Image Technology and Equipment 2019” as a tie-up plan with the exhibition.

<Bonuses>

- When listing the “companies participating in the exhibition” in the magazine, your company is conspicuously printed in boldface.
- A special page is created at OplusE’s web site and linked to OplusE’s web site and the top page of the j-imaging.com.
- Induction to the special page are posted in OplusE e-mail news (11/25) and Exhibition e-mail news (11/26).
